TALBOT PUTS DOWN REBELLIO

Head Consul of Modern Woodmen Delivers Fiery Speech.

SEWARD CAMP IS CENSURED

Declaration Made Rates of Order Must Be Raised If It Is Flourish—Sundean Scolded by Head of Fraternity.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Neb., Dec. 15.—(Special.)—While Head Consul A. R. Talbot was peacefully engaged yesterday at a meeting of the directors of the Modern Woodmen of America at Rock Island, a message reached him that a band of insurgents was gathered in Lincoln for the purpose of defeating the proposed plan to raise insurance rates in the order.

Lincoln is 300 miles from Rock Island. Within twelve hours after he had received the word the head consul was here. Blood was in his eye.

Late last night 100 Woodmen had gathered at the Lindell hotel. Talbot was there. The first thing he did was to denounce John Sandean, formerly of Walnut, as a traitor to the organization.

The latter was later a district deputy with headquarters at Minneapolis, but was relieved from office.

In his fiery speech Mr. Talbot attributed statements recently sent to the camps of the state by the camp at Seward to Mr. Sundean.

A warm and long session followed the reading delivered by the head consul. It was finally voted to pass the resolution asked by Talbot. It was as follows:

Be it Resolved, That we, delegates to this convention, deplore the action of the Seward camp, reflecting upon the officers of this society and charging wrong doing in any way. This convention does not approve of the preamble to the call sent out by Seward.

Rates Must Go Higher. "If by the order of the Modern Woodmen of America is to live the insurance rates must be boosted," declared Talbot in his argument.

"We have $1,500,000 now out in policies and at the present rate of assessment it will be 250 years before we can meet it. I do not want to say what you shall do in the matter of raising rates; I know that the sentiment is all against it, but look the facts coldly in the face and tell your delegates to the national legislative body what you think on the matter. The officers of the society cannot raise the rates without a referendum.

"The present rates may continue to carry us until the youngest man now in the order is dead, but there must be a readjustment sometime and in my opinion it had better come now than later. I will recommend to the board of directors that the money in reserve be put in firm mortgage paying four per cent rather than the present way of banking the reserve money at two. In fact a year ago I said that this should be done, but my proposal was rejected."

Meeting in Chicago. The question of raising the rates will come before a meeting to be held in Chicago. It will be held some time in January, next. Delegates will be sent from districts in each state.

Discussing the necessity of increasing the rates, a Lincoln official of the order, who refused to permit the use of his name, today said:

"The insurance rates of the Modern Woodmen of America must be raised in order to perpetuate the society. It is not a question of choice, but simply must be done. The opposition to raise has originated from a misunderstanding of conditions. After the matter was fully explained at last night's meeting, I believe that a majority of the delegates felt different about the matter. The Seward camp, from which the resolution was sent out calling the meeting, will meet tonight, and will no doubt retract the resolution. It has been asked to do so."

"The talk about the raise in rates being the work of the officials alone is untrue. This matter was taken up at the meeting of the head camp in Buffalo last June, and was thoroughly discussed. At that time it was thought best to defer action on the rate question until the matter had been given the fullest possible investigation. The special meeting of the head camp was for January. It will meet at Chicago at that time, and the rates will undoubtedly be raised."

"The opposition is not widespread. The Seward camp has but 150 members. The resolution originated there. There are about 60,000 Woodmen in Nebraska, and when the reason for the raise in rates is fully understood the opposition will be very small."

PLATTSBURGH, Neb., Dec. 15.—(Special.)—In the trial of the case of the state against John Bose in the district court here yesterday, after being out seven hours the jury brought in a verdict of guilty under the second count of the information.

PECULIAR DISEASE GRIPS "FRAT" HOUSE DWELLERS

(From Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Neb., Dec. 15.—(Special.)—In most of the sorority and fraternity houses north of O street students are being attacked by a form of stomach trouble and many of them are confined to their beds. The affection is believed to be a mild form of ptomaine poisoning, but physicians have not yet diagnosed it.

According to some of the physicians who have visited several patients, the disease is not dangerous. The health board is not conducting an examination. It was first believed the trouble was due to milk. Nearly all of the students affected procure their milk from the same dairyman. Some of the physicians, who have made an investigation, say this is not the cause.

New High School Building is Opened at Nebraska City

NEBRASKA CITY, Dec. 15.—(Special.)—This was a gala day for Nebraska City, it being the acceptance and dedication of the new $5,000 high school building, which has just been completed. The exercises lasted the major portion of the day. The building, which is of the latest construction and equipped with all of the modern conveniences for the students, was thrown open to the public this morning at 9:30, and the overland orchestra was present and discoursed music while the large crowd assembled. The first session of the day's exercises was a formal program in the assembly room and Dr. Claude Watson, president of the Board of Education, presided. The high school girls' quartet rendered several selections and the orchestra from the school for the blind was present and took part in the program.

In the afternoon a monster crowd was present again and Dr. Claude Watson presided. The invocation was by Rev. A. E. Perry, pastor of the Presbyterian church, followed by the High School Boys' Glee club. The address of welcome was made by Mayor O. C. Morton, followed by speeches by Postmaster John W. Steinhart, ex-Mayor L. F. Jackson, J. H. Sweet, C. M. Aldrich, John Mattes, Jr., and Patrick Hodgy. The speeches all told of the history of the public schools of this city, their growth and what they had accomplished.

The principal address of the afternoon was made by Chancellor A. Avery of the University of Nebraska. He congratulated the people of this city and community in having one of the finest high school buildings in the state.

The building was then formally turned over to the Board of Education by Architect G. L. Fischer in a most pleasing address and accepted by Dr. Claude Watson in behalf of the board and the citizens in general.

The main part of the building is three stories, built of gray pressed brick, with stone trimmings. There are sixteen rooms in the building aside from the large assembly room, with spacious halls on every floor. The building is one of the finest and best equipped in the state and the people of this city are justly proud of it.

CUSTER MAN FILES SUITS FOR DAMAGES AND DIVORCE

BROKEN BOW, Neb., Dec. 15.—(Special.)—Joseph H. Steinhagen, a farmer living sixteen miles west of Calloway, this county, has brought suit against W. L. Pettit of the same place in the sum of $5,000 for alienating the affections of his wife. In his complaint to County Attorney Beal, Steinhagen says that he has put up with this condition of affairs for three years and now proposes that Pettit shall make some reparation for the damage he has caused in his domestic circle. A suit for divorce has also been brought by Steinhagen. The Steinhagens were married in 1886 and have four children, the youngest being about 6 years of age. The husband has taken his four children and is now making his home with his father-in-law. Pettit, the defendant in the damage suit, is said to possess some property in the shape of live stock.

NO SPOAKER YET SELECTED TO ADDRESS TAFT MEETING

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Neb., Dec. 15.—(Special.)—As yet no speaker has been selected for the Taft meeting to be held in Lincoln December 20. The committee in charge of the affair is looking for a man who will be agreeable to all factions in the party. It was at first decided to have Senator Brown select the speaker at Washington. The latter has declined by saying that congress is too busy to send any of its members away for that purpose. He indicated that he did not know where an available man could be found. The matter is in the hands of ex-Congressman Pollard, and it is up to him to find a man who is not too busy and who has the required qualifications.

BEATRICE, Neb., Dec. 15.—(Special Telegram.)—The board of supervisors and County Surveyor Pethoud held a rather stormy session this evening because the surveyor refused to make surveys in the southern part of the county until the money advanced by him for help in his department was forthcoming. When Pethoud refused to obey orders a resolution was passed asking for his resignation. Pethoud was appointed by the board to fill the unexpired term of his father, the late A. J. Pethoud, and the board has a right to remove him. He was elected surveyor last fall, and in case he loses his job he will only have to wait until next month when he steps into office again.

Merrick Officials Reject Part of Bids to Build Court House

CENTRAL CITY, Neb., Dec. 15.—(Special.)—After deliberating for two days without deciding upon who should build Merrick county's new court house the Board of Supervisors adjourned last evening. However, by a process of elimination they have narrowed the field of contractors down to three, so that it is probable when the board reconvenes next Friday one of these three will be given the contract. Seven bids were presented, and after reading the bids the board went into secret session. After long deliberation the following bids were rejected: Northwestern Construction company, Fremont, Neb., $107,800; W. O. Jensen company, Omaha, Neb., $105,500; J. D. Betts, Topeka, Kan., $86,736; Gray Construction company, $87,384.

This narrowed the field down to the following bidders: H. Eulenberg & Co., Chicago, $91,350; Rowles & Bailey, Oklahoma City, Okl., $88,911; Wagenknecht & Gordon, Sioux City, Ia., $84,228. The bids were upon the court house completed and furnished ready for occupancy, according to the plans and specifications.

It now seems assured that the bonds can be disposed of at par, as the supervisors state that they have a buyer who will take them at their face value. It is also understood that each of the contractors bidding for the court house have sufficient backing to take up the bonds before closing their contract for the building.

Underwood Does Not Like President Taft's Tariff Suggestion

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Chairman Underwood of the house committee on ways and means today expressed the belief that Secretary of State Knox would find little encouragement in the house of representatives on his request that the president be given sweeping powers to compel foreign nations to grant tariff concessions to the United States.

The secretary's proposition was made in a letter to Chairman Underwood in which he elaborated on President Taft's suggestion in his recent message to congress on foreign relations that the tariff law be amended so as to provide a graduated means of meeting varying degrees of discriminatory treatment of American commerce in foreign countries.

Chairman Underwood declared that he does not favor personally such a plan.
